

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1745.

day arriv'd the Mails due from Holland and Flanders.

Petersburgh, January 16.

HE Vice-Chancellor, Count de Woronzow, is returned hither, with the agreeable News, that his Imperial Highness is entirely out of Danger, having passed the Ninth Day of the Small Pox without any remarkable Accident. We expect the Empress here either To-morrow, or the Day after;

it is thought the British Ambassador, Lord Hynd, and the French Ambassador, M. D'Allion, will be sent to their first Audience; and Lord Tyravley to have his Audience of Leave. Orders are also given for the March of 20,000 Men in the Spring; the Imperial Majesty has order'd her Ministers at the Courts of Vienna and Dresden, to give the strongest Assurance of her fulfilling punctually all her Engagements, respect to the House of Austria, and to the State Affairs in Germany.

January 19. We have this Moment receiv'd News from Cadiz, with the News that the Europa, in the last of the Count de la Torres's Squadron, is safely at the Groat on the 9th, with all the Merchants under her Convoy. The Duke de Montemar is in greater Favour than ever; and some attribute this Indisposition of M. Ensenada, of whom the French Minister said the other Day, very truly, being of his Illness, that he was afraid his Excellency was sick of his Ministry. Orders will be quickly for delivering the Effects of the Gallies on a very speedy manner; which, some say, will be between 13 and 15; on the whole, The Minister of the Duke de Montemar has presented a very pressing Memorial for the Sum, as may enable him to make the next Campaign.

January 23. The Government is still employ'd in sending the Troops of the Republick, tho' we have not any thing as to their Destination. We are our Magazines, providing Field Equipages for several Officers, and disposing every thing for an Campaign; all which is said here to be very consistent with our Neutrality. So, perhaps, may be our sending the Roads, furnishing Provisions, and repairing the Cannon for the Spanish Troops; tho' some of our Neighbours put another Construction upon it. How should we agree about Politicks, when the wisest Men here differ about the Weather? Yesterday was excessively cold, and we had some Sleet. Doria said to an eminent Senator, in a publick Assembly, I never saw a worse Day in my Life; he replied the Senator, never desire to see better. The Spaniards are advancing with the utmost vigour; the Piedmontese do nothing; and we have the English Fleet. We have this Moment that the Duke d'Aginois is actually arrived at that all our Magazines there are almost full.

January 23. A Body of Spaniards, consisting of about 8000 Men, have extended themselves along the Side of Loano. This has but an ill Effect, and we have this Moment Advice from Florence that the Infant Don Philip has demanded a Passage for his Army thro' Tuscany.

January 27. On the 23d of this Month, the Chancellor Count Uhlisfeldt, sent back a Cabinet Order to the Count de Rosenberg, the Queen's Ambassador at the Court of Petersbourg; which Courier was sent the Day before, and it is said, that this respects the speedy March of a great Body of Russian Troops for the Service of the Queen, our Sovereign. The Imperial Majesty is at her full Time, she assisted the Emperor Yesterday at a great Council, which lasted several Hours. At the rising of this Council, Expresses were dispatched to Prince Lobkowitz, and to our General in Bavaria, Silesia, and the Upper Palatinate; as well as all her Majesty's Ministers at Foreign Courts. The Imperial Count de Konigsfegg is to set out in a few Days for the Hague, in order to confer with their Highnesses, before he takes upon him the Command of the Confederate Army in the Low Countries. The Emperor has commanded by General Hohenemb, Orders to march directly into Moravia, to enable the Marshal Count Traun to attack the Prussians in Silesia. The Count de Buhi, Prime Minister to his Majesty, arrived here Yesterday Morning. At the Intercession of several Foreign Courts, a Commission has issued for settling the Terms upon which the Jews may remain in her Majesty's Hereditary Dominions.

Berlin, February 6. On the 2d arrived an Express from the Baron de Mardfelt, our Minister at the Court of Petersbourg, with the important News, that 24,000 Russians are to move towards Germany in the Month of March next, under the Command of the Prince de Repnin. The Court has published a long Detail of the Advantages gained by the Prince of Anhalt Dessau in Silesia; and Yesterday, in the Evening, the Margrave Charles set out for that Army, where he is to command a separate Body of Troops. According to all Appearance, the Death of his Imperial Majesty will not much alter the Resolutions of our Court.

Munich, January 29. On the 25th, at Five in the Afternoon, the Corps of his Imperial Majesty was interred with all imaginable Ceremony. The Conduct of our Court, since his Death, is extremely close and reserv'd. The Title given to our Sovereign by Foreign Ministers, is that of Royal Highness; but that used by the Ministers of the Court, his Electoral Highness only. The French Party, in our Councils, proposed, that the Elector should have been proclaimed King of Bohemia; but his Highness declined it. The Count de Thoring has the Command of the Army; and the Count de Preysing is at the Head of Civil Affairs. When the French Minister paid his Compliments of Condolence to the Elector, he told him, that his most Christian Majesty would support the War as vigorously as if his Imperial Majesty's Death had not happen'd; to which the Elector answer'd, I am oblig'd to his most Christian Majesty, but I hope to begin and end my Reign in Peace.

Ratisbon, February 4. On the 29th of last Month there was a very brisk Dispute between an Austrian and a French Detachment at Schrekkenhausen, not far from Ingolstadt. The latter had advanc'd into that Neighbourhood in order to take Winter Quarters; upon which, Baron Berenclaus, and Baron de Rothe, sallied out with a Part of the Garison, and oblig'd them to retire with great Precipitation to Reichenhofen, where they were sustained by a good Corps of Horse and Dragoons; upon which, finding their Superiority, they attack'd the Austrians in their Turn, and forc'd them to regain the Fortress of Ingolstadt, with the Loss of 500 kill'd, 300 Prisoners, and eight Field Pieces.

HOME PORT.

Deal, February 6. Wind W. N. W. Remain in the Downs his Majesty's Ships, the Dutch Men of War, and all the Outward-bound as per list.

LONDON.

Private Letters from the Hague say, that they have Advice from Italy, that the Court of Spain hath transmitted to the Count de Gages a Manifesto, setting forth the Reasons inducing it to undertake the Conquest of Tuscany, with the Consent of the Court of France.

They write from Naples, that a Galliot sailed from thence on the 19th of January, N. S. for Genoa, in order to take on board there a very large Sum of Money, lately arrived from Spain.

We learn from Dresden, that his Polish Majesty returned thither, in perfect Health, from Poland; and that the Count de Loos was dispatched from thence to Vienna, from whence he is to proceed to Munich; the same Letters say, that the new Elector of Bavaria has left all his Affairs in the Hands of his Polish Majesty, in order to an immediate Compromise with the Queen of Hungary.

According to private Letters from Franckfort, the next General Dyet is to be held there on the 1st of June next, and it is said there are Four Candidates for the Imperial Crown already; viz. the Grand Duke of Tuscany, the young Elector of Bavaria, the King of Poland, and the King of Prussia.

We learn from several Hands at Brussels, that the French Court has lately sent Orders to Dunkirk for restraining the Privateers of that Place; and that their last Letters from Paris breath'd nothing but Peace, and Rejoicings for the Marriage of the Dauphin.

The Dove, Jacks, from South Carolina for Cowes and Hull, is taken, and carried into Breff.

The George Privateer, Capt. Leonard, of Topsham, is taken by a French Privateer of superior Force, after a very smart Engagement, in which many Men were kill'd on both Sides, and carried into Breff.

The Providence, Norman, from Hull for London, and the Jane and Katharine, Blythe, from Dundee with Coals, are both taken by the French, and carried into Dunkirk.

A French Ship from Canada, Burden 160 Tons, laden with Furs, is taken by the Kou'i Khan Privateer, Captain Barker, and sent into Lisbon.

On Tuesday died, at his Father's House in Clifford-street, Master Desbovrie, youngest Son of Sir Jacob Desbovrie, Bart.

The same Day died Mr. Wright, Son of George Wright, Esq; Member of Parliament for Leicester.

The Dover Man of War is arriv'd at Esenaur from Copenhagen, where she had run ashore, but receiv'd no Damage.

Last Wednesday died, at his Lodgings in the Temple, Mr. Centurion, an eminent Counsellor at Law.

Yesterday a Grant passed the Great Seal unto the Reverend Mr. Samuel Woolley, of the Prebendary of the Cathedral Church of St. Peter's in Gloucester.

A new Commission of the Peace has also passed the Great Seal for the County of Salop.

Yesterday a Hoy laden with Brush Fagots, accidentally took Fire as it lay at Mr. Dickson's Wharf in Dirty Lane, Westminster; but by timely Assistance, it was extinguish'd without doing any great Damage.

A New Mechanical Practice of Shewing how these Three General Agents of Nature, namely, AIR, WATER, and FIRE, with all their known Powers, Properties, and Qualities, Gravity, Elasticity, Pressure, Heat, Cold, Dryness, Motion, Stimulation, Effluvia, &c. may be by proper Machines, and made to operate in all the Human Body, or any particular Region or Member, as also upon the Lungs and inspiring Organs; whereby the principal Intentions and Alterations necessary to be made in the Animal Solids and Fluids for attaining Health, the Cure of all Diseases, will become effected in the most safe, expeditious, universal Manner, without the use of any internal Remedies; as is demonstrated from the Institutions of Nature, with the established Laws of the Animal Oeconomy.
 Moreover, by the said Machines the Cold and the Baths will be render'd not only infinitely more efficacious than in many singular Cases, wherein they are used to benefit, but the Use of both the said Baths may be perfected, as all the same salutary Effects which may be from them, may be obtain'd from the Air alone, properly prepar'd, and applied as an artificial Atmosphere, Fluid Mould and Bandage to the Human Body, (using the new Methods here described) the Fluxility of the Solids, may be rais'd or lower'd, at all Times, to agree as suits best with the present Constitutional indications of every individual Person, in like Manner, ing up a Watch, or putting Hair in Buckle, or as it was cast like a Piece of Wax into a solid Mould. The Performance of which one general Intention, consisting Secret and true Art of preserving Health and curing Diseases, Upon which Accounts these Machines (the Drawings are engrav'd in large Copper Plates) will be of the most usef'ul Use, not only for all Hospitals, Infirmarys, &c. but every private Family.
 As it is of infinitely greater Importance to Mankind the Truth of the several Subjects in this Treatise, than the Discovery of the Longitude, &c. the Publisher fore hereby seriously address'd and call'd upon to give attention thereto; and particularly, if the illustrious learned the College of Physicians in London will be Book impartially into Consideration, and publish their thereof; if they should differ in Opinion from the as to any of the principal Subjects, in that Case he endeavour to reply. But otherwise, he declares now into a Controversy with any particular Person on this count, it being an endless disagreeable Task to reform popular Practices, Opinions, and Prejudices, shall leave it to Time, Experience, and Facts, to Truth of the new Principles and Practices here set forth.
